U.S.-Colombia Trade Promotion Agreement

Enhancing Economic Growth, Job Creation and Prosperity

Each Day Congress Does Not Approve the Colombia Trade Deal, U.S. Exporters Pay $2 Million in Unnecessary Tariffs

- More than 97 percent of U.S. exports to Colombia are subject to duties that range from 14 to 50 percent. Here are a few examples:
    - 80 percent tariff on a steak from Montana
    - 35 percent tariff on a passenger vehicle manufactured in Michigan
    - 30 percent tariff on bacon from Iowa
    - 20 percent tariff on a refrigerator manufactured in Ohio
    - 20 percent tariff on a television monitor manufactured in California
    - 15 percent tariff on an apple from Pennsylvania

- In contrast, more than 90 percent of all imports from Colombia enter the U.S. marketplace duty-free, while U.S. exports face tariffs as high as 35 percent.

- With the FTA, over 80 percent of U.S. exports of consumer and industrial products to Colombia will be duty-free immediately when the agreement enters into force, with remaining tariffs phased out over ten years.

- Reduced tariffs mean U.S. businesses can export more of their products, which translates into job opportunities and economic growth.
